(54) Title: METHOD AND SYSTEM FOR SENDING LOCALIZATION AND IDENTITY DEPENDENT INFORMATION TO MOBILE TERMINALS

(57) Abstract: The present invention discloses methods and devices, with which a selection action of information is performed in a central system before communicating the selected information to a user terminal. This selection (4.6) is according to the invention based on a least both the identity (9) of the user and the position (11) of the user terminal. By using relations between identity (9) and profiles (8) a first information filtering can be achieved. By further using relations between the actual position (11) of the user terminal and the constitution of the industrial automation facility, information irrelevant for the parts in the vicinity of the user terminal is removed. Preferably, also the operational situation of the facility and the history of the user actions are used for filtering or prioritising the information. The most prioritised data quantity is communicated (12) to the user terminal (13) and displayed at a user terminal display. If all the data, despite the sifting, is too extensive to be shown at once on the user terminal (13), the user may by one or a few key presses or mouse actions zap between different parts of the relevant information.
